

JON McCORMACK
MORPHOGENESIS

I am one of the first of the computer generation. I have used a computer almost every day of my life since secondary school ... The computer has shown me things about the world that I could not have known, understood or seen in any other way. I see and appreciate nature in a fundamentally different way than before ... I use a computer for the simple reason that the work I create with it would not be possible in any other medium.'
